

Weekly Citizen

ALBUQUERQUE, — AUG. 25, 1900

From Wednesday's Daily.

Attorney James G. Fitch, of Socorro, passed through the city this morning for Santa Fe.

Mrs. Daniel Scruggs was down south on a visit to friends. The lady returned home this morning.

Mrs. D. B. Auld and son, Larson, who were on a visit to Colorado relatives and friends, returned to the city last night.

Mrs. C. A. Hawks and daughter, Miss Grace, after a protracted visit in southern California, returned to the city this morning.

B. S. Rodey, the attorney, was out in western Valencia county on some legal matters. He returned from the west this morning.

Sheriff C. T. Blackington, of Socorro, county, came in from the south this morning, likewise Carlos Basa, of Valencia county.

Richard Ford, a well-known merchant and stock raiser of Valencia county, located near Belen, is in the territorial metropolis to-day.

Judge J. W. Crumpacker and wife, Hon. Neil B. Field and Colonel E. W. Dickey left this morning for Santa Fe. They go on legal matters.

William J. Cogburn, who resided in this city and out west at Fort Wingate, has been admitted to the territorial bar at Las Vegas.

G. C. Hall has fitted up handsome offices on west Silver avenue, where he keeps sample of groceries and takes politics and fair and laundry.

Rev. Charles Pinto, a prominent Catholic clergyman of El Paso, arrived yesterday among the local priests.

Max Mandell, brother of Mrs. Mike Mandell, will arrive this evening from New York, and will accept a position at the dry goods store of L. B. Stern.

Mrs. James Melan and children, of El Paso, arrived this morning from the south, and will visit until after the fair with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louisa.

Miss Hicks, who was here the past year for her health, left this morning for her home at Loma, Mich. She was a clerk at the dry goods store of L. B. Stern.

Mrs. R. K. Gentry and Mrs. W. F. Bell, who are visiting in Los Angeles, are expected home by the first of September, after enjoying a three month vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Elder are rejoicing over the arrival at his home of a son, the boy, and the Concord Telephone company is one of the happiest.

Peter Schuch, an employee of B. Field & Co., who recently purchased a home from G. L. Altheimer, on the corner of Roma and Sixth street, intends to move into his new home on Friday.

R. L. Dodson, manager of the Albuquerque Cycle and Arms company, left last night for Gallup, where his company has a branch store. Mr. Dodson took along with him a lot of posters to the territorial fair.

Mrs. Margaret McGillicuddy, accompanied by Mrs. Getchel, who is here from Michigan, left this morning for Santa Fe, where they will enjoy the high altitude for a day. They expect to return to the metropolis to-night.

A short time ago E. C. Perkins resigned his position as foreman of the shop yards, and now it is announced that William Timewell has been appointed to the vacancy. Mr. Timewell and family have removed to the city from Isleta.

E. L. De Jarnett, representing the Mengenthaler Linotype company, came from New York last night and continued south to Tucson, Arizona, this morning. He was met at the depot by Mr. S. Black and Frank E. Hall, old friends.

Professor H. A. Owen took the train south this morning for Silver City, where he expects to make his future home teaching in the New Mexico Normal school. His work will be in the department of biology and physiology.

George H. Brown and family, Fred N. Corbin and family, and William Chamberlain, who were on a visit to the famous Jemez hot springs country, returned to the city yesterday afternoon, and report having had a most delightful outing.

Miss Hannah Moore, of Oswego, N. Y., who visited Albuquerque several months ago, and who enjoyed immensely among our people, returned to the city last night, and there were friends at the depot to welcome her return to the city.

Miss M. E. Gilmore, the well-known music teacher, has concluded to take a rest from her labors—she having taught during the past few months, and has been connected with a banking institution at the above place.

Mrs. G. F. Allright, wife of the managing editor of the Journal-Democrat, accompanied by Master Elwood, have gone to that splendid summer resort in southeastern New Mexico, Cloudcroft. They will be absent until October.

On account of failing health, Harry Hay, of Woodstock, Ont., has come to Albuquerque to rest and recuperate. He has been connected with a banking institution at the above place.

Colonel A. Staub, the wealthy Santa Fe merchant, who was at Socorro this morning, came in from Gallup this afternoon. The hon. and Mrs. Staub, who are with him, will visit relatives and friends in the city.

Walter Jones, a well-known stock raiser and buyer of Colorado, passed through last night with 200 head of fine cattle procured in Socorro county. He was taking them to Lamar, Colo.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Haas recently purchased several lots on west Silver avenue. This morning, Mrs. Haas stated that they were going to build at once, but now would not start in until after the fair, thus giving the association the use of their lot, which is appreciated.

A pleasant party, consisting of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Johnson, Miss Louise Briscoe, a visitor from Kansas; Miss Frances and Master Ralph Halloran, who have been camping on the Pecos, returned to the city last evening. Their parents are now at the hotel.

Misses E. Carr and another were passengers on the C. & G. train for Gallup this morning.

W. E. Pratt and wife, with their children, came in from Gallup this morning and will remain here in the future. For the time being they have taken rooms at the Hotel Highland.

One of New Mexico's wealthy and popular sheep men, Sylvester Mirabel, was in the city purchasing supplies yesterday. He reports the grass on the ranges much benefited by the recent rains.

C. O. Cole, who has been filling the place of F. N. Cotton, operator at the railway office, while the latter was on his vacation, has, with his family, returned to Flagstaff, where he is the regular operator.

Governor M. A. Otero, H. O. Bursum and Hon. Solomon Lora came in from Santa Fe last night, resting up in the territorial metropolis. They returned to the capital on the delayed passenger train this morning.

E. B. Booth, the well-known Second Street merchant, has packed his bags for Chicago and New York. He goes on business and pleasure, and expects to be absent about a month.

Jay Hubbs has purchased the interest of his partner, George Caseman, in the steamer hand, who will continue to represent the Singer Sewing Machine company, left for New York, and will be absent for a few weeks.

Miss M. E. Gilmore, the well-known music teacher, has concluded to take a rest from her labors—she having taught during the past few months, and has been connected with a banking institution at the above place.

Dr. S. B. Wolfe, inspector of agencies for the Washington Life Insurance company, of New York, arrived last night, and is around to-day with the company's New Mexico general agent, Edward Grindstaff. The doctor was this morning by The Citizen representative and was found a very pleasant gentleman.

John Everett, the jeweler, is so recently engaged in moving his stock of goods from his long-established headquarters on the south side of Railroad avenue to the north side in the rejuvenated store room lately occupied by the Rice cafe. The old Everett store room will soon be occupied by a saloon, with Messrs. Locke & Dawson as proprietors.

Advertiser George Ogden, of El Paso, accompanied by C. H. Dixon and wife, came in from the south this morning and while the train was at the depot was met by Joseph Barnett, whom they failed this time to persuade to accompany them to New York. Mr. Ogden will visit his old home in Cincinnati, Ohio, but Messrs. Dixon and Ogden will go on to New York, for the purpose of witnessing the Pittsburgers' sharking game.

A few days ago The Citizen mentioned the fact that A. N. Keenan had resigned his position as chief clerk of the freight depot on account of ill health, would accept another position (that of cashier) where the duties were not so trying. Yesterday the change occurred, David Shiley, who was the cashier, being promoted to the position of day ticket agent, and F. E. Koty, who has been day ticket agent, going on at night, those changes having been made possible by the resignation of J. E. Norris, who was the night ticket agent. Auditors Maryfield and Shores checked up the employees, found their departments all right, and promptly made the transfers.

The heaviest passenger-laden train from the Pacific coast, for many days, arrived here this morning and at half hours behind time. Conductor W. H. Barney was in charge of the train which carried 215 passengers, over 200 being Pacific coast Grand Army delegates and their families to the national encampment at Chicago. En route to this city a vote of the delegates and other men passengers were taken on the presidential candidates, and 87 votes were favorable to McKinley against 26 to Bryan. At this station the long train was made up into two sections—the first consisting of the baggage, express and mail coaches, and the day coaches. The second section consisted of the tourist and Pullman sleepers.

Frank Randolph, of Albermarle, and Frank D. Wever, of El Paso, were present to receive the train of the Bland hotel Standard division. Miss Weaver accompanied by Mrs. Randolph, the groom's mother, arrived from Denver on the 2 o'clock stage, and were met at the hotel by his intended, where the bridal knot was tied by the Rev. George S. Madson, pastor of the Methodist church. The happy couple left for their home at Albermarle Monday morning, where Mr. Randolph has a position with the Albermarle Mercantile company.

J. F. Goyer, a well-known musician and stock raiser of Valencia county, located near Belen, is in the territorial metropolis to-day.

Judge J. W. Crumpacker and wife, Hon. Neil B. Field and Colonel E. W. Dickey left this morning for Santa Fe. They go on legal matters.

William J. Cogburn, who resided in this city and out west at Fort Wingate, has been admitted to the territorial bar at Las Vegas.

G. C. Hall has fitted up handsome offices on west Silver avenue, where he keeps sample of groceries and takes politics and fair and laundry.

Rev. Charles Pinto, a prominent Catholic clergyman of El Paso, arrived yesterday among the local priests.

Max Mandell, brother of Mrs. Mike Mandell, will arrive this evening from New York, and will accept a position at the dry goods store of L. B. Stern.

Mrs. James Melan and children, of El Paso, arrived this morning from the south, and will visit until after the fair with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louisa.

Miss Hicks, who was here the past year for her health, left this morning for her home at Loma, Mich. She was a clerk at the dry goods store of L. B. Stern.

Mrs. R. K. Gentry and Mrs. W. F. Bell, who are visiting in Los Angeles, are expected home by the first of September, after enjoying a three month vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Elder are rejoicing over the arrival at his home of a son, the boy, and the Concord Telephone company is one of the happiest.

Peter Schuch, an employee of B. Field & Co., who recently purchased a home from G. L. Altheimer, on the corner of Roma and Sixth street, intends to move into his new home on Friday.

R. L. Dodson, manager of the Albuquerque Cycle and Arms company, left last night for Gallup, where his company has a branch store.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Gentry, who are here from Texas and night, will visit with their son and daughter, Mrs. J. C. Gathorn.

Jose L. Perez, county collector, enjoys a few days with Bernardo relatives.

It was a warm, round-jacketed morning:

W. B. Oldford, United States attorney for Mexico, who was at Las Vegas in legal matters, returned to the city last night.

Hans Becker is in the city from Belen and as he has many friends among the young folks it will remain here a few days.

From Friday's Daily.

Jacobo Yrizarri and family are visiting relatives and friends in Santa Fe.

Miss Nichols, of Wingate, wife of the post agent at that point, spent yesterday evening in the city.

R. P. Barnes, the district attorney of Grant county, passed up the road for Santa Fe this morning.

Mrs. J. B. Fleming came in from the north last night, and proceeded south this morning. She resides in Silver City.

Deputy United States Marshal J. J. Sheridan returned to the city this morning from an official trip to the southern towns.

Misses Delta and Katherine Houle, who have been visiting here with Miss Briscoe, left for the west last night, and will visit with their son and daughter, Mrs. J. C. Gathorn.

Miss Nichols, of Wingate, wife of the post agent at that point, spent yesterday evening in the city.

Miss Kathie Crumpacker, daughter of Judge J. W. Crumpacker, was a passenger for Santa Fe this morning.

J. S. Horton, of the Albuquerque Foundry and Machine works, left this morning for Bland and Albermarle.

L. A. Hughes, the Santa Fe wool buyer, who was here last night on business, and that he was not regular, never again.

Rev. Walter W. Heyn, who has been staying at the Commercial club, where he can be found by any one wishing to consult him.

Ralph Holloman, manager of the New York Life Insurance company, returned to the city last night from the north.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Elder are rejoicing over the arrival at his home of a son, the boy, and the Concord Telephone company is one of the happiest.

Peter Schuch, an employee of B. Field & Co., who recently purchased a home from G. L. Altheimer, on the corner of Roma and Sixth street, intends to move into his new home on Friday.

R. L. Dodson, manager of the Albuquerque Cycle and Arms company, left last night for Gallup, where his company has a branch store.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Gentry, who are here from Texas and night, will visit with their son and daughter, Mrs. J. C. Gathorn.

Jose L. Perez, county collector, enjoys a few days with Bernardo relatives.

It was a warm, round-jacketed morning:

W. B. Oldford, United States attorney for Mexico, who was at Las Vegas in legal matters, returned to the city this morning.

Hans Becker is in the city from Belen and as he has many friends among the young folks it will remain here a few days.

From Thursday's Daily.

H. D. Becker, the Ixota merchant, is here taking in the circus.

Hon. M. S. Otero left this morning for Santa Fe on business and pleasure.

Miss Kathie Crumpacker, daughter of Judge J. W. Crumpacker, was a passenger for Santa Fe this morning.

J. S. Horton, of the Albuquerque Foundry and Machine works, left this morning for Bland and Albermarle.

L. A. Hughes, the Santa Fe wool buyer, who was here last night on business, and that he was not regular, never again.

Rev. Walter W. Heyn, who has been staying at the Commercial club, where he can be found by any one wishing to consult him.

Ralph Holloman, manager of the New York Life Insurance company, returned to the city last night from the north.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Elder are rejoicing over the arrival at his home of a son, the boy, and the Concord Telephone company is one of the happiest.

Peter Schuch, an employee of B. Field & Co., who recently purchased a home from G. L. Altheimer, on the corner of Roma and Sixth street, intends to move into his new home on Friday.

R. L. Dodson, manager of the Albuquerque Cycle and Arms company, left last night for Gallup, where his company has a branch store.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Gentry, who are here from Texas and night, will visit with their son and daughter, Mrs. J. C. Gathorn.

Jose L. Perez, county collector, enjoys a few days with Bernardo relatives.

It was a warm, round-jacketed morning:

W. B. Oldford, United States attorney for Mexico, who was at Las Vegas in legal matters, returned to the city this morning.

Hans Becker is in the city from Belen and as he has many friends among the young folks it will remain here a few days.

From Friday's Daily.

Jacobo Yrizarri and family are visiting relatives and friends in Santa Fe.

Miss Nichols, of Wingate, wife of the post agent at that point, spent yesterday evening in the city.

Miss Kathie Crumpacker, daughter of Judge J. W. Crumpacker, was a passenger for Santa Fe this morning.

J. S. Horton, of the Albuquerque Foundry and Machine works, left this morning for Bland and Albermarle.

L. A. Hughes, the Santa Fe wool buyer, who was here last night on business, and that he was not regular, never again.

Rev. Walter W. Heyn, who has been staying at the Commercial club, where he can be found by any one wishing to consult him.

Ralph Holloman, manager of the New York Life Insurance company, returned to the city last night from the north.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Elder are rejoicing over the arrival at his home of a son, the boy, and the Concord Telephone company is one of the happiest.

Peter Schuch, an employee of B. Field & Co., who recently purchased a home from G. L. Altheimer, on the corner of Roma and Sixth street, intends to move into his new home on Friday.

R. L. Dodson, manager of the Albuquerque Cycle and Arms company, left last night for Gallup, where his company has a branch store.